Question

Is the bolsterring of the comb on a flintlock or a percussion shotgun allowed?

Remarks

Yes, this is allowed as long as the rules below are followed :

- it is fully removable (unless it is original to the gun), and on the original gun are no permanent modifications, that would spoil its historical value.*
- it is solely done with contemporary materials (such as leather and felt)*
- it is attached with a contemporary method (such as leather straps)*
